Journalist (and parishioner) Michele Jurich Schreck reported on our June 11th “Farewell to the Dominicans” event in the latest edition of the Catholic Voice. She took the title of her article from a line in Fr. David O’Rourke, O.P.’s homily: “The Church is a Who and Not a What.” As Michele reported, our former pastor “told parishioners that the upcoming Feast of Corpus Christi offer[ed] an opportunity to reflect on ‘how we go about living our lives as the Body of Christ’.

She noted that Fr. David “illustrated the role of the people in the life of the Church with personal remembrances of his own grandmother urging that a church be built closer to the people, so children would have a place to learn their faith.”

Update on the Bishop’s Appeal:

Inching Back towards Our Goal

The goal Bishop Barber assigned to our parish this year is $25,403.90. Last month a $1000.00 donation meant for the Capital Campaign was misattributed to the Appeal, and so we’ve only raised $21,842.00, representing 85.98% of our goal. The new report:

- 57 donors, $15,517.00 in outright gifts
- 8 donors, $6,400.00 in pledges

Now thirty-five parishes in our Diocese have already met or surpassed their goal. Many, many thanks to those who have donated! But if you have not given, please click on one of the DONATE links on our parish website: marymagdalen.org/donate.

Our former Pastor, Fr. David O’Rourke, O.P., preached at the Western Dominicans’ Farewell Mass on June 11th.

Fr. David, who served here from 1975 to 1981, “recalled his days as pastor [here at St. Mary Magdalen parish] as the ‘happiest of [his] life. Vatican II had taken root in this parish.’ He recalled the Christian Family Movement, parish music and involvement of parishioners.”

"The Church is a who and not a what‘, he said. “It becomes personal in our relationships with one another.”

Michele also quoted from the remarks made at the end of Mass by Bishop Emeritus John Cummins: "‘Over the years’, he said, the Dominican Fathers had cooperated in diocesan initiatives, for which he thanked them.

"‘I have to say it’s a sense of loss’, he said of their departure. But mindful of the Dominicans’ mission, he recalled, ‘they are travelers and must not settle down’.”
Notes from Fr. Nick

Bulletin Columns

After eight years of seminary, six summers at Notre Dame, and seven years at the Graduate Theological Union, I had read through enough syllabi. When I finished my last degree, I decided that for the rest of my life I would read whatever I pleased. Teaching assignments and other projects have kept me from fully honoring this decision, but for the most part, for the last twenty years I’ve read anything that pricked my curiosity.

A friend tells me I’m the most catholic (note the lower case “c”) reader he’s ever met. In the past twelve months, I have read a book on the intelligence of cephalopods (Peter Godfrey Smith’s Other Minds) as well as a collection of Nordic stories (Neil Gaiman’s Norse Myths), and almost any other subject in between. I try to strike a balance between fiction and non-fiction, but tilt toward the latter.

My bulletin columns follow the same pattern. Generally I write about whatever strikes my fancy. Although everything I read in some way informs my faith, my columns may, or may not, comment on Church, theology, ecclesiology or liturgy. I may be a priest to the core, but my interests stray very far from the sanctuary.

One of the deep dark secrets about these columns is that I write them far in advance of publication. Four times a year, I sit down and compose thirteen of them all at once. Having the bulletin deadline loom over me every week would be a surefire way to failure. Occasionally I must rewrite a column when plans change, or something else intervenes, but at least the queue is filled well in advance.

So, get ready for book reviews, essays, and recipes, in addition parish events, liturgical musings and Church teaching. Saint Paul tells us, “Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind.” (Romans 12:2) To me this means having a healthy interest in just about everything without mindlessly buying into it. I never cease to be surprised when I find God in the oddest places, and I love writing and preaching about it.

Fr. Nick Glisson greets parishioners after the 11:00 Mass at his first weekend as pastor at St. Mary Magdalen parish.
Parish News

Last Weekend Fr. Nick Glisson Became our First Diocesan Pastor

Fr. Nick moved into the parish rectory on Friday evening and celebrated five Masses during the weekend. A mix-up at the Vigil Mass evoked an allusion to this Far Side cartoon — but his homily on “hospitality” was well-timed, as at the end of each Mass he invited all the parishioners to join him in the rectory after the 11:00 a.m. Mass today (Sunday, June 9th) for a potluck lunch and reception.

Fr. Nick is encouraging every parishioner to drop by the rectory, even those without a dish to share. Please enter via the “garden entrance” next to the Parish Hall door.

BOOK GROUP MEETS ON JULY 29th

The Book Group’s first meeting without our beloved Fr. Cassian will discuss Helen Simonson’s “wondrous debut novel,” Major Pettigrew’s Last Stand, at 10:00 am on Saturday, July 29th in the parish conference room. Read this charming historical novel, and then join “The Bookclub Ladies” for a lively discussion.

Social Justice Notes

Catholics in Alliance for the Common Good invites us to “join in a Pope Francis Revolution this summer.” CACG is focusing on the following four issues, which are at the heart of the social mission of the Church:

1. The just treatment of immigrants and refugees, particularly from Moslem-majority countries;
2. Protecting and improving Americans’ health care coverage;
3. Stopping any proposed cuts to poverty and hunger programs;
4. Ensuring the United States’ continued participation in the Paris agreement and care for God’s creation.

A problem...

The plastic bottles, bags and takeaway containers that we use just for a few minutes use a material that is designed to last forever.

These plastics:
- break up, not break down – becoming permanent pollution
- are mostly downcycled (made into low grade product for just one more use) or sent to landfill
- ‘escape’ from bins, trucks, events etc. to become ‘accidental litter’
- end up in waterways and the ocean – where scientists predict there will be more tonnes of plastic than tonnes of fish by 2050
- transfer to the food chain – carrying pollutants with them
- increase our eco-footprint – plastic manufacturing consumes 6% of the world’s fossil fuels

Every bit of plastic ever made still exists and in the first 10 years of this century the world economy produced more plastic than the entire 1900’s!

With solutions.

More than 6 out of 10 of us are already refusing plastic shopping bags, avoiding pre-packed fruit and veg, picking up other people’s litter and avoiding buying bottled water.

Choosing to be part of the solution, you can act by:
- Avoiding products in plastic packaging (choose alternatives)
- Reducing where possible (opt for refills, remember your reusable shopping bags)
- Refusing plastics that escape as litter (e.g. straws, takeaway cups, utensils, balloons)
- Recycling what cannot be avoided

Our former pastor, Fr. Carl, will spend next year travelling around the world on a freighter, taking a long retreat in a monastery in Massachusetts, and studying in Rome and Oxford! We can all follow his adventures on his new blog: cschlichte17sabbatical18.blogspot.com

Catholic Funeral & Cemetery Services is supporting Business Manager Norah Hippolyte’s salary! The new banner on the parking lot fence is our way of saying thanks. For more information, see cfcsoakland.org, or call Deacon Dave Holland at (925) 932-0900.

Norah started her first day at work on July 3rd, only two days after Fr. Nick became our new pastor. She first met Fr. Nick over 20 years ago, when he was briefly the pastor of St. Leo’s in Oakland, and he has wanted to hire her ever since!

Fr. Nick values Norah not only for her organizational skills, but her deep involvement in pastoral care at St. Leo’s. We will soon be drawing on her experience, as one of her first tasks she has set for herself is to develop procedures for welcoming new members to St. Mary Magdalen Parish.

Testimonial from a parishioner in New York:
“Once you start learning, Jeff makes you hunger for more. He pulls everything you need to know out of the Bible, and it all starts to make sense like it never did before.”
~ Margaret Tirpak
